Late Foreign Intelligence.

LONDON, February 20

We rejoice to state that his majesty, is pronounced by his physicians to be not only out of danger, but in a fair way of recovery.

Our advices from the coast continue to assure us, that the enemys preparations for the invasion of this country are in such a state of completion, as to render it highly probable that the daring attempt will not much longer be delayed. The information received by government is amply corrobative of these accounts: and Ministers are, in consequence in daily expectation of some movements of importance being attempted from most of the opposite ports. All the letters of Saturday concur in stating that the enemy's flotillas are again on the alert, for the purpose of reinforcing the grand depot at Boulogne.

The masters of several vessels arrived in the River from Amsterdam report that at the time of their sailing the frost had set in with great severity, and that their navigation of the Zuyder Zee was much impeded by the ice. They add that all the small vessels had been conveyed from Amsterdam &c. by canals to Flushing; but that there are in the Texel about 60 ships of from 400 to 100 tons burthen on board of wcich the troops assembled at the Helder are to embark.

Letters from Gurnsey of the 14th inst. mention that an unusual bustle prevailed along the enemy's coast &c. The opinion was, that some enterprize was on the eve of execution.

A foreigner, seized at Castlebar in Ireland, on suspicion of being a spy, was on Monday last brought to Dublin, under a military escort, and committed to prison.

Fresh alarm in Ireland.

DUBLIN, Feb. 15.

"Last night this city exhibited an appearance of the greatest alarm, and the guards at the several barriers were doubled—large patroles of cavalry paraded the streets the entire of the night, while the remainder of the garrison were to a man under arms within the walls of their respective barracks. The military display did not fail of exciting the most lively apprehensions. The yeomanry flew to arms; the 26th of last July did not exhibit a more numerous meeting of the citizens. The following which I can rely on, are the only circumstances which, after the minutest enquiry, have come to my knowledge, as furnishing a cause for this extraordinary alert. Government within the space of a a very few hours, received intelligence from Mr. Seavor, of Armagh, that a rising was immediately to be apprehended in that country connected with a movement which was to take place as of last night in this city. They had similar information from the Collector of Newry. It was reported to them that a considerable number of fishermen of Dublin Bay had absconded for the purpose of serving as pilots to the enemy; that the county of Kildaire is completely organized, and ready to obey its Rebel Chief at a moment's notice; and finally, that a Rebel Committee had been taken next door to the Post-Office in Cork, which had been discovered to receive its final instructions from the invading army. I believe that even more material information is in the possession of government."

"Corcoran, the Rebel Chief, who has been for a considerable time the terror of the county of Carlow, and for whose apprehension a large reward was offered by government, has at length terminated his career. The Revd. Mr. Eastwood, of Killian in the county of Wexford, having received information that Corcoran and some of his gang were concealed in a house about a mile from him, sent a party of 12 yeomen of Jamestown infantry, under the command of Wm. Ellison, Serjeant in the Ross Guards, who approached the house with his small party in three divisions, and after receiving the fire of the rebels, closed on them; Corcoran received a shot through his body, and is since dead. An outlaw of the name of Brennam was wounded, and a noted rebel John Fitzpatric, who had deserted from Hompesch's Corps, and went under the name of the Hessian, was secured. A blunderbus, two musquets (which had been plundered from some of the Borris infantry,) and several pistols, fell into the hands of the yeomen, who conducted themselves with uncommon steadiness.

Another letter, same date.

"A very considerable degree of alarm prevailed in this city last night. The garrison was under arms, and the yeomanry repaired to their several alarm posts, prepared with ball, catridges, &c. and strong patroles of horse were in motion the whole night. No two persons scarcely are agreed as to the cause; but the fact, you may rest assured, was this: The commander of a northern corps of Yeomanry, who is now in this city, received a letter from his first-lieutenant, informing him, that on the night of the date of his letter, a rising was expected; and that he had served out ammunition to his corps, and that they were in momentary expectation of an attack.—This letter the Yeomanry commander shewed, of course, at the Castle, and all those precautionary steps were taken which a vigilant and active government should adopt; for as there was no time to correct the information; the natural conclusion was, that if any insurrection was really meditated in any part of the country, it would or might have been intended in the capital also, and at the same time, generally all over the island. While I am happy to tell you that the alarm was, for the most part, unfounded in truth, I cannot but notice how happily it proved the alertness and zeal of our Yeomanry. On the first intimation of any danger, they flew under arms to their several posts, and in about ten minutes or a quarter of an hour, there was a force of loyal preparation. which, I am sure would have dismayed, and easily suppressed any active rebellion which the metropolis could have produced. The Yeomanry of Ireland will justify the handsome tribute paid by Mr. Secretary Yorke to their zeal, loyalty, courage and efficiency."

CORK, February 12.

Several persons who were in a public-house, in George-street, were on Friday night arrested upon charges of being parties at seditious meetings. The administering of criminal oaths to a few of the populace, has been traced to an individual or two, who are publicly known; and who, the better to engage the compliance of the thoughtless and ignorant, have infamously, basely, and wickedly slandered some of the most loyal, wealthy, and respectable gentlemen of this city, by naming them as accomplices in the projected treason.

RATISBON, Jan. 27.

Yesterday, Citizen Bacher, the French Charge des affairs, presented to the diet a letter from the Pope, addressed "To our beloved Son in Christ, Napoleon Bonaparte." Its contents concern the religious affairs of Germany.

LEGHORN, January 4.

In consequence of the order of General Murat, the flag of our sovereign has been substituted on our forts to that of the French. The latter, however, still retain the command of the interior, but they maintain excellent discipline; commerce becomes every day more flourishing, and the advantage which all classes derive from the change are incalculable. Vessels daily arrive, which were destined for other ports, but dare not sail for them on account of their being blockaded by the English.

AMSTERDAM, January 28.

The following is an extract of a letter from Calais:—"Notwithstanding the extraordinary exertions that has been made, the expedition against England can scarcely be expected to take place before the end of March, so much time will be required to assemble the armed vessels and transports at Boulogne, and encrease the national flotilla there to the number of 1500 sail."

A considerable promotion has been made in our Marine: among others, captain Blois de Treslong has been appointed a Rear Admiral.

HAMBURGH, February 7.

Representations of a very insolent nature have it is said, been made by the French Government to the Danish court. The principal object is to exclude the English from the ports of the Baltic by shutting up the sound. Denmark has given a decided negative to this demand, and applied for the mediation of Russi, which has been granted. In the mean time it is in contemplation to train the whole population of the Dutchies of Holstien and Schldeswie to the use of arms, that they may be ready to resist any hostile attempt on the part of the First Consul.

Congress of the United States.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Friday, March 23.

Mr. Nicholson, from the Managers appointed to confer with the Managers of the Senate on the disagreeing votes of the two houses on the Louisiana bill, made a report recommending that the house should recede from their amendment, proposing a substitute for the fourth section of the bill as it came from the Senate. The substitute provides for the election of a legislative council by the people of Louisiana. Mr. Nicholson observed that the Managers on the part of the Senate, had represented that the election of a legislative council by the people of Louisiana would be attended with inconveniencies which he, for one, had never perceived before. It was stated by one of the Managers, who had been in Louisiana, and by another well acquainted with the situation of the country, that the settlements there were usually in parishes in which the inhabitants were generally of one description. Some of those parishes were entirely composed of Spaniards, some of French, some of Germans, and some of Creoles. If each of them were to send a member, the legislative body would be composed of persons of different languages. The representatives of no two parishes would perhaps speak the same language. This, Mr. Nicholson said, was the principal reason which induced the Managers to recommend that the House should recede. There were other reasons of a very powerful nature, which it was not necessary for him to state.

Mr. Smilie declared himself in favor of receding, as he wished the bill passed, under the conviction that, without the proposed new section, it would provide for the people of Louisiana a better government than they at present enjoyed.

Mr. Alston observed, that in consequence of a limitation in the bill, it would expire in one year, which would be antecedent to the time when the contemplated legislative council, as eligible by the people, would be organized.—He was, therefore, in favour of receding.

The question was then taken, by Yeas and Nays, on the receding, and carried in the affirmative—Yeas 51—Nays 45.

The Managers further recommend that the House should insist on their amendment, declaring null all grants subsequent to the treaty of St. Ildefonso—with an amendment, saving bona fide grants to a certain extent, made to actual settlers.

Mr. R. Griswold said he should vote against the amendment, with the view of afterwards voting against insisting on the original amendment of the House.

Mr. Nicholson and Mr. Smilie said a few words in favor of agreeing to the amendment.

When the question was taken on concurring with the report of the Managers, and carried—Ayes 54.

The House took up the bill received from the Senate, altering the time of the next session of Congress to the 1st Monday of November.

On the question whether the same shall pass?

Messrs. Leib, Sloan, Bedinger, and J. Clay supported; and Messrs. Thatcher, Lyon, Huger, and Elmer opposed it.

When the question was taken by Yeas and Nays, and the bill passed——Yeas 54—Nays 43.

Mr. Claiborne called up the bill making further provision for extinguishing debts due by the United States.

Mr. Leib said he was friendly to the principle of the bill; but despaired, from the late period of the session, of its passage; he, therefore, moved its postponement to the 1st Monday of December.

Mr. Elmer expressed a coincidence of sentiment with Mr. Leib.

Mr. Claiborne said it was well known to the House that he was friendly to this bill: he was, however, sensible that it was too late to act upon it during the present session. His only wish, therefore, at this time, was to put the bill in such a respectful situation as would recommend it to the early attention of Congress at their next session. He, therefore, acquiesced in the postponement.

The motion of postponement was then carried without a division.

The House went into committee of the whole—Mr. J. C. Smith in the chair—on the bill from the Senate to punish certain crimes against the United States.

The first section of the bill was read. It provides for the punishment with death any person, who shall wilfully burn, sink or destroy any vessel.

Mr. Lieb moved to strike out "with death" and to insert, "by imprisonment not exceeding fourteen years."

This amendment gave rise to a debate of some interest and length, on the comparative advantages of sanguinary an mild punishments, and on the relative magnitude of the offence the punishment of which was under consideration.

Messrs. Leib, Smilie, J. Clay, Elmer, and Stanton supported; and Messrs. Nicholson, Holland, R. Griswold, Southard, Macon and Thatcher opposed, the amendment, which, on the question being put, was negatived—Ayes 52.

An act to erect a light house at the mouth of the Mississippi, and to erect other light houses was read a third time and passed.

The House went into committee of the whole, on the bill supplementary to the act respecting the election of President and Vice President. Mr. Tenny in the chair.

The committee having gone through the bill, reported it without amendment; when it was read a third time and passed---Ayes 49.

A message was received from the Senate, stating their agreement to the report of the committee of conference on the Louisiana bill, which is consequently passed.

It may not be unsatisfactory here to state that the bill, finally passed, is limitted in duration to one year from the 1st day of October next (when it is to take effect) and thence to the end of the next session of Congress.

It directs the appointment by the President of a governor, to hold his office for four years, the appointment annually of a legislative council composed of inhabitants of Louisiana, and the appointment of judges.

It will be perceived that the principle of the Senate, withholding for the present the right of suffrage from the people of Louisiana prevailed subject, however to the limitation of time introduced in the bill by the House of Representatives.

The House went into committee of the whole---Mr. Nicholson in the chair---on the bill making an addition to the salaries of governors, judges and secretary of the Indiana territory.

The bill adds to the salary of the governor 500 dollars, to that of the judges 400 dollars, and to that of the secretary 875 dollars, for two years from the 1st of October next.

Mr. Early spoke in favor of the bill, on the ground that, by the annexation of a part of Louisiana to the Indiana territory, the duties of these officers was greatly increased.

Mr. Lyon opposed the bill, and moved to amend it by striking out the additional compensation allowed the governor.

Messrs. Leib and Clay advocated the amendment.

When the question was taken on Mr. Lyon's motion, and carried—Ayes 51.

Mr. Macon moved to strike out "to the judges each 400 dollars."

Mr. Macon observed that it was an incorrect procedure to give judges a temporary salary.

Mr. Morrow opposed the motion.

Mr. Macon's motion was then agreed to—Ayes 47.

The committee then rose and reported progress; when leave was refused to them to sit again, and the bill postponed to the 1st Monday of December.

An engrossed bill supplementary to an act prescribing the mode in which the acts in one state shall be authenticated so as to take effect in another state was read the third time and passed—Ayes 57.

Mr Nicholson offered a resolution declaratory of the opinion of Congress that the first section of the act providing for persons disabled by known wounds received during the revolutionary war, &c. should be so construed, as to include all persons who in consequence of disability arising from known wounds resigned their commissions.

Mr. Smilie opposed the motion, under the idea that one act of Congress could only be explained by another act of the same kind.

Mr. Nicholson said this was as much a legislative act as though it began with the words, "be it enacted."

Mr. J. C. Smith suggested the propriety of accommodating the style to the phraseology of the laws. He was of opinion that one solemn act of legislation could only be superceded by an act equally sacred.

Mr. G. W. Campbell expressed the same opinion.

On motion of Mr. Nicholson the resolution was referred to a committee empowered to report by bill.

The House took up an amendment of the Senate (entirely verbal) to the bill supplementary to the naturalization law, and concurred therein.

The House took up and agreed to an amendment of the Senate to the bill for the relief of the heirs of John Habersham.

Both these bills have, therefore, passed the two houses.

Mr. J. C. Smith reported a bill embracing the contents of Mr. Nicholson's resolution (above stated.)

Ordered to a third reading.

Saturday, March 24.

A bill supplementary to the act making provision for persons disabled by known wounds, &c. was read the third time and passed.

This bill gives the construction to the act to which it is supplementary stated in the proceedings of yesterday.

The bill further to regulate trade and intercourse with the Indian tribes was postponed to the first Monday in November.

The House went into committee of the whole—Mr. Varnum in the chair—on the bill from the Senate, authorising the payment of 2,800 dollars to Philip Sloan.

The committee rose and reported their agreement to the bill; which the house ordered to a third reading, and passed—Ayes 66.

The House went into committee of the whole—Mr. Varnum in the chair—on the bill from the Senate, to amend the laws providing for the organization of the accounting offices of the treasury, war and navy departments.

Mr. Dana observed that this appeared to be a bill for the revival of the office of commissioner of loans. This might be necessary; but as there had been no report on the subject, he was not prepared to say that the measure was necessary.

Mr. Nicholson called for the reading of the report of the committee of Ways and Means, and an accompanying letter from the Secretary of the Treasury which was read.

The committee rose and reported the bill.

The House immediately took it up, and ordered it to a third reading. The bill was accordingly read the third time, and on the question whether the same shall pass?

Mr. Conrad desired the taking of the Yeas and Nays. Mr. Conrad said that he had expected a very different bill from the present; in consequence of the resolutions entered into by the House at an early stage of the session. It was then generally expected that two offices would be abolished, it now appeared that it was contemplated to create an office. He trusted the bill would not pass.

The question was then taken on the passage of the bill, by yeas and nays, and passed in the negative—Yeas 42—Nays 44.

A letter was received from the Secretary of the Treasury, stating the compensations rendered to counsel employed by the several departments of the government in support of prosecutions on the part of the U. States.

A bill from the Senate, appropriating 15,000 dollars to extinguish Indian claims was passed—Ayes 42—Noes 38.

A message was received from the Senate stating that they had passed the bill concerning the city of Washington, with an amendment devoting the appropriation of fifty thousand dollars to finishing the President's house for the accommodation of Congress, and directing the purchase of a house for the President.

Messrs. J. Randolph, and Sloan supported and Messrs. J. Lewis, Smilie, Dawson, Claiborne, and Elmer, opposed this amendment; when the question was taken by Yeas, and Nays, on agreeing to it, and passed in the negative. Yeas 27, Nays 77.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 28.

It is reported that a gentleman in the City of Washington, has received a letter from a person of the first respectability in England, mentioning, "that the King is deranged, that a regency has been appointed, consisting of Mr. Pitt, the Queen, and Duke of Clarence, that the Duke of York had been removed from the command in chief, and Cornwallis put in his place—that Mr. Fox and Mr. Gray were in the ministry, and that Ireland was in the greatest commotion."

Extract of a letter from Copenhagen, just received by a gentleman of N. York.

"The politics of the north of Europe which have long been vibrating, appear now to be brought to a decided stand. Report upon good authority says that Prussia has joined France againt Russia, that the French minister in Russia is recalled, and that the French minister at this court has solicited his recall immediately. It is an indisputable fact that the Russian ministry is changed in favor of England, which it is supposed they will join against France; and as Denmark is in a great measure under the controul of Russia, I think there is but little doubt that she will be induced by Russia and Sweden, to espouse the cause of England.

The following is an extract of a letter from Captain Baimbridge, to Commodore Preble, which has been handed to us by the Secretary of the Navy.

TRIPOLI, Barbary, 12th November, 1803.

SIR,

I had the honor of writing to you on the first and sixth instant from this place giving an account of the loss of the United States frigate Philadelphia, late under my command. I now transmit you further particulars of that unhappy event: the following bearings were taken from the place where the ship grounded.

The westermost of the small rocks which form the harbour, W. by S. 1-2 S. the steeple of S. Mosque near the Danish Consul's Flag-staff the W. by W. fort English to the east of the town S. W. Bearings taken by the point of compass. When the ship grounded, her head was N. E. After giving up the chase in pursuit of the cruizer, and bearing off shore, striking on the rocks was as unexpected to me, as if it had happened in the middle of the Mediterranean sea; immediately laid all sails aback, run all the guns aft, sounded and found a sufficient depth of water astern, and a small distance from each side. A consultation of the officers was called, when it was unanimously agreed to heave the guns over board and start the water; this was done as expeditiously as possible, and a fire kept up at the gun boats from our stern and weather quarter guns; in firing the lower stern chasers, the stern caught fire, which was put out without much confusion; the gun boats carrying brass eighteen and twenty four pounders were keeping up a fire against us, but directed their shot at our masts. Finding that the guns and water did not lighten her sufficiently, the officers were of opinion that the fore mast should be cut away, which was done but without the desired effect. A reinforcement of five more gun boats coming upon our lee quarter, where it was impossible for us to fire a gun, except down in the water, and the weather guns could not be depressed sufficient to heave within the distance of the boat. At 4 P. M. every hope was fled of our being able to get her off, and not the least power whatever of injuring our enemy, and saw no alternative but our eventually becoming prisoners to Tripoli: a council of the officers was called, when they were unanimously of opinion that it was impossible for us to get her off the rocks, and that continuing in our situation would only be sacrificing lives without affecting our enemy, or rendering the least service to our country. In such a dilema, too painful to relate, the flag of the United States was struck.

I trust that a want of courage can never be imputed where there is no chance of resistance. Distressing indeed to brave minds to be obliged to surrender without having had an opportunity of defence. Some fanaticks may say that blowing the ship up would have been the proper result. I thought such conduct would not stand acquitted before God or man, and I never presumed to think I had the liberty of putting to death 300 souls because they were placed under my command, and those persons who argue thus, to have been in our situation, would no doubt have had very different ideas.

Although I feel conscious that my conduct will bear the nicest investigation, yet I am no stranger to the censures of an ungenerous world, and the regrets and mortifications which are incident to a change of public opinion, which does not always follow meritorious exertions; and an accident, although occasioned by circumstances which no prudence could foresee or valor controul, may weigh against years of arduous service; yet I have a consolation in believing that my friends are too sincere to let adversity of fortune change their opinion.

I have the honor to be,
Sir,
With the most sincere respect,
Your obedient servant,
WM. BAINBRIDGE.

REANIMATION.

WHEN the moſt important functions of life are ſuſpended, and thoſe who are invalids by imprudence, inheritance, accident or diſeaſe, are tottering upon the brink of the grave, it is not in deſpair that relief is to be found: There is a medicine which has reſtored thouſands from infirmity and miſery to health and happineſs, which is

THE AROMATIC
LOZENGES OF STEEL.

Since this excellent medicine was firſt diſcovered by Dr. Bardwell, ſeveral thouſand females have experienced its ſalutary effects; many of whom had been reduced to the brink of the grave having uſed every remedy recommended as ſpecific in thoſe complaints, and had made every application to the faculty that could be obtained. The following recent caſe is ſelected from a numerous liſt.

From Mrs. Eleanor Wadſworth, Providence, (R. I.)

Sir,

WE received yours and with much pleaſure comply with your requeſt, as my daughter has certainly received very great benefit from Dr. Bardwell's Aromatic Lozenges of Steel.

In the winter of 1802 my daughter, who is in her 17th year caught a very ſevere cold, which with the violent fever which accompanied it, confined her to her room upwards of four months; during this period we paid for Doctors bills and conſultations 150 dollars. The fever left her in the moſt deplorable, and debilitated ſtate with hardly any uſe of her limbs, ſo that we were obliged to carry her from the bed to the chair. Being ſtrongly perſuaded by the Doctor we went to Ball. Town Springs and ſtayed the ſeaſon, and thought ſhe gained conſiderable ſtrength by the uſe of the waters; but by the fatigue of the paſſage (having very rough weather) ſhe became as weak and her cough much worſe than before. During the laſt winter her whole nervous ſyſtem has been ſo irritable, and her ſpirits ſo low and depreſſed, that death to her was deſirable. In the latter end of January we ſaw an Advertiſement recommending the Lozenges of Steel for ſimilar complaints, we immediately purchaſed a packet of them, and before the whole of them were taken, they evidently produced a change in her ſyſtem, which no medicine before had been able to effect, we ſent for two more packets. It is now fourteen days ſince ſhe began to mend; ſhe has laid aſide her crutches, has been twice on horſe back, and if the weather ſhould prove favorable we intend coming to Peeks-kill early in April to ſtop until we go to Balls-Town Springs: from there we will ſend you our addreſs, where with pleaſure we will ſatisfy any enquiries.

Price one Dollar per Packet.

Particular directions for their uſe are ſealed up with each box as the great benefit to be derived from them can only be ſecured by having them genuine the public are requeſted to obſerve that the name of Thomas Stokes & Co. are affixed to each packet, without which mark of authenticity they are not genuine are only to be had, in Alexandria, of Meſſrs.

The Lozenges of Steel,

WHO HAVE ALSO ON HAND,

A SUPPLY OF

Family & Patent Medicines,

—CONSISTING OF—

Chambaud's Antaſthmatic Lozenges; Ague and Fever Drops; Antibilious Pills; Anodyne Eſſence for Head Achs; Reanimating Solar Tincture; Dr. Bardwell's genuine Eye Water; Atkinſon's Eſſence of Muſtard; Scotch Ointment for the Itch; Tooth Ach Drops; Aromatic Lozenges; Eſſence of the Woods, &c. &c.

Dr. Hunter's genuine Antibilious Pills,

For the prevention and cure of Yellow, Bilious and Putrid Fevers.

Every experienced phyſician knows what dangerous diſorders ariſe from a redundancy of bile in the habit; however ſalutary a due ſecretion of this fluid may be, yet a diffuſion of it in the circulation is known, from its putreſcent qualities, to bring on ſudden and fatal fevers. The unparalleled ſucceſs of Dr. Hunter's Antibilious Pills, in curing, and particularly in preventing this dreadful diſeaſe, is univerſally known in the iſlands, and has induced the proprietor to appoint agents in all the mercantile towns in the United States, for the accommodation of the public. The Antibilious Pills are therefore, in an eſpecial manner, recommended as a preventative, deſerving the notice of all perſons going to the Weſt Indiaiſlands, or any of thoſe places infected with theſe fevers. Dr. Hunter has every poſſible reaſon, that can reſult from long and extenſive experience, for believing that a doſe of theſe pills, taken once every fourteen days, during the prevalence of our fall fevers, will prove an infallible preventative, and that, if taken in the early ſtages of theſe fevers, their uſe will very generally ſucceed in reſtoring health, and frequently in caſes eſteemed deſperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of theſe pills is perfectly mild, may be uſed with ſafety by perſons in every ſituation and of every age.

In ſickly times and places a doſe ſhould be taken once a fortnight, and if there is reaſon to apprehend perſonal danger, once a week.

Obſerve that the ſignatures of Meſſrs. Thos. Stokes and Co. is affixed to each box, without which mark of authenticity they are not genuine.

Dr. Atkinſon's genuine Eſſence of Muſtard.

Rheumatiſm in every ſtage, inſtantly ſubmits to its penetrating powers, which has ſucceeded in curing the moſt deſperate caſes of rheumatiſm, gout, lumbago, ſciatica, numbneſs, palſy and complaints of the ſtomach, after ſprious medicines have proved ineffectual. It is prepared in pills, and alſo in a fluid ſtate. The pills are particularly ſerviceable in flatulences and indigeſtion, and by their ſalutary operation, promote perſpiration, and gradually undermine the moſt obſtinate rheumatiſm; and, at the ſame time, invigorate the debilitated conſtitution. The fluid eſſence is a remarkable active embrocation, neceſſarily uſed with the pills, and as generally excites a tingling ſenſation; it removes the cauſes of pain, by bringing on a circulation in the parts affected: by this means, frozen limbs, the ſevereſt ſprains and bruiſes, old ſtrains and relaxations, are generally cured by a few applications. The genuine is diſtinguiſhed from counterfeits, by the ſignature of Thomas Stokes and Co. being affixed to each bottle; without which mark of authenticity, none are genuine.

The genuine Scotch Itch Ointment.

The only medicine that cures this diſagreeable diſeaſe, by one application, ſo many thouſands having experienced its efficacy; it is unneceſſary to add any more arguments in its favor, but to caution the public that the name Thomas Stokes and Co. is affixed to each box, without this mark of authenticity, none are genuine.

Dr. Bardwell's genuine Eye Water.

A ſovereign remedy for all diſeaſes of the eyes; ſpeedily removes inflammations, dimneſs, itchings, and films it never fails to cure thoſe maladies which frequently ſucceed the meaſles, ſmall-pox, and fever; and is an unparalleled ſtrengthener of a weak ſight.

Dr. Hunter's genuine Antibillious Pills.

An agreeable and certain preventive of the predispoſition to inflammatory and malignant fever, which prevails at particular ſeaſons of the year. The rapid and increaſing demand from every part of the United States, and the Weſt India iſlands, is the beſt evidence of their ſuperior excellence.

CHAMBAUD'S
Antaſthmatic Lozenges.

A radical cure for coughs, colds, aſthmas and conſumptions, difficulty of breathing, &c. &c.

Mr. CHAMBAUD, the ſole proprietor of this medicine, has the ſatisfaction to announce that they have been the means of relieving many perſons in a moſt precarious ſtate of health. In common colds this medicine produces ſo ſalutary a perſpiration that they generally are eradicated in a few hours. Coughing, being prolonged by that convulſive ſymptom termed the tickling in the throat, it ſhortens its duration by promoting ſleep and ſtrengthening the conſtitution. Pulmonary complaints, affecting the breaſt and lungs; thoſe affected with them experience an almoſt immediate relief. Aſthmas and confined conſumptions have repeatedly been eradicated by them. Infants in the hooping-cough, and women during pregnancy, may take them without the leaſt fear of danger, and with the greateſt expectation of relief, nor can it be adminiſtered at an improper ſeaſon.

Annodyne Eſſence, for all kinds of Head Achs.

THE renowned virtues of the Annodyne eſſence, is now ſo generally known, that it is no preſumption in the Proprietor, to ſay, that Head Achs, ariſing from whatever cauſe, or however violent, inſtantly ſubmit to its penetrating powers. This invaluable Annodyne, has frequently ſucceeded after the beſt advice, and every other remedy had failed; by its ſalutary operation, it inſenſibly promotes circulation and perſpiration, and thereby prevents the return of the moſt obſtinate periodical head achs.

SPRING PHYSIC.

DR. HUNTER'S Anti-Billious Pills are unqueſtionably proved by ample experience to be the moſt effectual remedy, at the ſame time the moſt innocent, pleaſant and convenient medicine for the cure of ſcurvy, ſcorbutic eruptions, leproſy, and other diſorders originating from a corruptive ſtate of the blood. The remarkable cure of Mr. Elliſton, of Albany, who had been twelve years tormented with a moſt diſtreſſing ſcorbutic complaint, as alſo that of Thomas Johnſon, a labouring man, in the ſervice of Mr. Van Renſſelaer, who was afflicted with a moſt horrid leproſy, muſt have convinced evey one who has read the particulars of theſe caſes, beſides which, a variety of proofs of their efficacy, authenticated by perſons of character and reſpectability are open to the examination of every inquirer. Theſe muſt naturally be ſuppoſed to have their due weight, and ſupercede the neceſſity of any further comment from the Proprietor, yet, he preſumes to aſſert, that the real merits of this vegetable preparation will, on a fair trial, plead more forcible its own recommendation than any thing which can be ſaid of it.

Where alſo may be had,

Atkinſon's Worm deſtroying Lozenges.—Theſe Lozenges not only deſtroy worms where they exiſt, but effectually prevent their return. Thoſe families who have followed Dr. Atkinſon's advice, and uſed them in the Spring and Fall among their children, as their common phyſic, have now the happineſs to find thoſe children which appeared ſickly and conſumptive, in the bloom of health, being entirely delivered from thoſe dreadful vermin.

Sparta, Mount Pleaſant, March 27, 1803.

We hereby certify, that our daughter, about 4 years of age, has been very unwell and in a bad ſtate of health for theſe laſt two years. We always ſuſpected that ſhe had worms and had given her ſeveral worm medicines without any good effect, ſo that we deſpaired raiſing her till of late. Hearing of ſome ſurpriſing cures being performed by Atkinſon's worm deſtroying Lozenges, we purchaſed a packet of them, and adminiſtered them according to the directions. The firſt doſe brought away only one worm, and with it a quantity of ſlimy, offenſive matter; the ſecond brought away four monſtrous thick worms nearly half a yard in length; and the third doſe, a large quantity of a ſlimy, offenſive matter. The vomiting and purging, with which ſhe was frequently troubled have ceaſed—her appetite has become regular, and has ever ſince enjoyed a perfect ſtate of health, for which we are entirely indebted to this excellent medicine

Re-animating Solar Tincture, or Pabulum of Life

Of the cure of Conſumption and Aſthma. Diſorders in the Stomach and Bowels, Convulſions, Cholic and Diſentery.

Cautious in inveſtigation, and attentive enquiry into the nature and laws of the animal economy, having long confirmed an opinion in the mind of the inventor, that all the maladies abovementioned, derive their origin from the ſame cauſe, indirect debility, or conſequent weakneſs, the analogy of their ſource, by a natural inference ſuggeſted the idea of their removal by the ſame means; the reſult was the diſcovery of the Re-animating Solar Tincture, which after having been employed in thouſands of inſtances, with the moſt unexampled and aſtoniſhing ſucceſs, has obtained the wormeſt approbation of characters of the firſt reſpectability, both in and out of the profeſſion; the proprietors can confidently recommend as one of the moſt certain, efficacious, and pleaſant remedies ever diſcovred by man or offereed to the world.

Price, 1 dollar and 1 dollar 50 cents per bottle. The large bottle contains nearly two of the ſmall. Copious Directions for their uſe are ſealed up with each bottle.

Dr. Stoughton's Cordial Bitters, faithfully prepared at the original warehouſe, London.

This incomparable medicine has ſtood the teſt of univerſal approbation in Europe for near an hundred years, in the cure and prevention of,

Loſs of appetite, bad digeſtion, windy cholic, ſurfeits, hyſteric vapours, faintneſs and trembling, ague and fever, depreſſed ſpirits, foul breath, worms in children ſcurvey, obſtructions or ſtoppages, bilious fevers, ſick fits, &c. &c.

☞ Theſe Bitters being now generally uſed in taverns and public places, and univerſally acknowledged by all who have tried their effects, to befar ſuperior to the compoſitions formerly impoſed in imitation thereof; the proprietor hath reduceſt the price to thoſe who purchaſe largely above fifty per cent. Directions will be paſted on the Bottles, and which will be alſo ſealed, in order to detect counterfeits and upſtart pretenders, who will all tell you, they make the genuine Stoughton's Bitters; and in order to impoſe their traſh on the public, they ſometimes copy a part of the true advertiſement and directions.

Speciſic Drops for Deafneſs.

FOR many years have theſe drops been uſed with amazing ſucceſs, in DEAFNESS & HARDNESS of HEARING. Thoſe who are unacquainted with the great relief afforded by this valuable medicine, are earneſtly recommened to a trial. Few are the caſes in which it has not been of great ſervice, and very often perfected a complete cure.

Copious directions for the uſe of the Speciſic Drops for Deafneſs are ſealed up with each bottle. Price one dollar.
